TEXT: Tortoise and Hare

Tortoise knew that Hare could run faster than he could, but he challenged Hare to a race. "All right", said Hare. Hare could run very fast, but he trained hard because he wanted to win the race. Tortoise was much slower than Hare, but on the day of the race he looked very happy and confident. The kick-off was given; Hare ran very fast, but after one kilometer Tortoise was first. Hare ran faster, but after two kilometers Tortoise was still in front. Hare ran as fast as he could, but Tortoise definitely won the race. How did Tortoise win?

Easy! He was tricky, he asked three of his friends to run the race with him, so there was another tortoise at each kilometer, but Hare thought there was only one he was running with. So though Hare was faster, Tortoise was much cleverer!
